1. Receipt is acknowledged of the three prior art information disclosure statements filed March 26, 2004, January 18, 2005 and April 18, 2005.

2. Claims 1-19 are pending in this application.

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-11 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims of copending Application No. 10/719,988. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the steps of the copending claims comprises essentially the same language as the instantly claimed (a) + (b) and (c) steps and step (b) of the provisional has exactly the same language as the instantly claimed process.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

4. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 12-19 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 12-19 of copending Application No. 10/719,988. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1651

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bertram et al US 20030224407.

Bertram et al teaches:

This toxicological fingerprint pattern may be used along with the "control" pattern for comparison with the pattern of a test compound/stimulus of unknown function or result. Thus the common fingerprint for, e.g., hepatotoxicity, is used to screen a stimulus of unknown function or effect to determine if that stimulus is likely to produce hepatotoxicity in the mammal.

By "plurality of materials derived from the genomic library" it is meant to include, but is not limited to, individual clones spotted onto and grown on a surface of the solid support at predefined locations or regions; or plasmid clones isolated from said library, PCR products derived from the plasmid clones, or oligonucleotides derived from sequencing of the plasmid clones, which are immobilized to the surface of the solid support at predefined locations or regions. As selection of genes involved in e.g., carcinogenicity, apoptosis, inflammation, metabolism of compounds etc, may be used

It would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skilled in the art to employ combinations of classifications in view of the broad disclosure which includes apoptosis. The procedure is considered to obvious for the claimed evaluation absent unexpected or unobvious process steps.

6. No claim is allowed.

7. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.
